

Blush Garden

Seven pages for one week, by hand, in the diary with this cover.

READ YOUR COVER

Your cover is cotton, hand block-printed: an ivory ground with large plum-pink flowers and trailing leaves. Each block carries a registration mark cut into its corner, but the printer lines up every impression by eye and hand.

phool
LARGE FLOWER

bel
TRAILING LEAVES

patti LEAF

Simplified drawings, not copies of a printer's block.

THE ONLY RULES

- ◆ One page a day
- ◆ By hand, about ten minutes
- ◆ No rubbing out
- ◆ Nobody else has to read it

A page written by hand is the one nobody else could have written.

FROM THE STUDIO, AHMEDABAD

THIS WEEK

- 01 WRITE
10 min Describe a garden you know well, a park, a terrace, a grandmother's tulsi pot, through what grows there and who tends it.
- 02 DRAW
10 min Draw one large flower slowly, petal by petal, taking the whole ten minutes. Then draw one in thirty seconds. Compare them.
- 03 LOOK
10 min Watch a plant for ten minutes: the light, the insects, the wind. Write down only what you see, no opinions.
- 04 WRITE
10 min Write about something you have helped grow: a plant, a skill, a friendship.
- 05 MAKE
5 min Trace the outline of a leaf from your home onto the page and fill it with what you did today.
- 06 WRITE
10 min What would you plant if you had a small patch of ground? Write the list, and why each one.
- 07 RETURN
5 min Choose this week's best line and copy it inside the front cover, where you will see it next time.

TWENTY SHEETS

One for every diary print, free. Scan the code or visit houseoffalguni.com/pages/haath-se

SHARE A PAGE

Made one you like? Tag @houseoffalguni.

Craft notes from houseoffalguni.com/pages/the-craft and the product page for this cover.